Commitment has a colour. Red.

Good hygiene is a silent hero – you don't notice it when everything is working, but you can see its absence immediately. For us, hygiene is not just a choice, it's a commitment to doing things right. When we do our part well, we help you provide better hygiene experiences for those who matter to you.

When you see our red brand, you see our passion and dedication. It reflects the way we work, from using virgin fibre from renewable forests to our smart tissue and dispensing solutions. We take care of every step of the value chain to provide reliable and future-proof hygiene products.

So if better hygiene is your goal, choose Katrin.

Red is the colour of passion

Good hygiene is a silent superhero: unnoticeable when everything is working, but needed immediately when it is missing. It is vital in spaces where people work and meet. For over 50 years, Katrin has stood for reliable professional hygiene, care and a deep understanding of what hygiene really means.

Katrin's strength has always been in people – the Katrin team and our customers. Our brand has been built by listening to needs and developing solutions that make everyday life better. It is the foundation on which we continue to move forward.

For us, hygiene is not just a choice. It is a promise to do things right. We take care of our part so that you can focus on your own work and provide safety and functional hygiene to those who are important to you.

This mindset is reflected in our brand red. It is the color of our dedication. It speaks to the way we work – its purpose, passion and promise to help our customers succeed.

Commitment has a colour. Red.

The colour of dedication is red

Our unique and transparent value chain supports your sustainability goals. It starts with certified, responsibly managed forests, continues through the selection of raw materials right to the final product. We use naturally pure virgin fibre to ensure the highest hygiene standards.

Thanks to our local market knowledge, we understand your needs and respond quickly and efficiently. We keep our logistics moving, as close to our customers as possible, which ensures fast and reliable deliveries.

This ensures a consistent and uninterrupted availability of essential products.

Who decides – you or your dispenser?

We're committed to effective hygiene. That's why we created a dispenser that works with all folded paper towels. That means longer life, fewer paper change runs to ordes – and more peace of mind for you.

Katrin Freedom of Choice - dispensers give you the freedom to choose.

Manage costs

As your hygiene needs or the availability of the paper towels you use change, you are not tied to one type of paper and its cost. Our dispensers give you the freedom to change your paper towels at any time, without extra hassle or cost.

Manage lifespan

An open dispenser solution is not tied to a specific paper type. It can be used for as long as you want. It is both a more sustainable and economical solution.

Manage the customer experience

Freedom of Choice dispensers are available in a variety of sizes to suit all spaces, applications and paper types. Provide your customers with a better experience without worrying about running out of paper.

60%

of those surveyed prefer to dry their hands with a paper towel in public spaces. In our clear selection you will find suitable paper towels for every toilet.

Cleanliness makes the food taste better

Cleanliness and freshness directly affect perceptions of, for example, restaurant service, and therefore good hygiene is particularly important in the horeca sector and requires high-quality and safe products to function.

The spoon and fork symbol is a sign that the product meets the requirements set for accessories and materials that come into direct or indirect contact with food.

Keeping it local to suit you

We manufacture our tissue as close to our customers as possible, and our local staff know your industry well. They are always available to support your business.

Katrin System
